Congress Convenes; Session Is Quiet

Attitude of Members Outside Chambers Is That Battles Are Ahead; Truman Message Wednesday

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Congress convened at noon today in a lull-before-the-storm atmosphere.

There was no fanfare and only routine formalities in the Senate and House. But off the floor the talk was of battles ahead in an election year over weighty domestic and foreign issues.

Traditionally, Congress undertakes no business until it receives the President's annual state-of-the-union message. Mr. Truman will deliver that in person at 1:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow.

It is expected to draw clearly the lines between the White House and the Republican-controlled national legislature on many matters. Mr. Truman may give his views—say what he wants—on tax reduction, foreign aid, military training, powers to use against high prices.

Congress' answer will come bit by bit in the debates and the votes of the months ahead while the November elections draw closer.

While almost all Congress members were in town for the session, not all attended the opening meeting. There were many vacant seats in both chambers, but the galleries drew their normal crowd of visitors.

Since Congress adjourned Dec. 19, Rep. Patrick Drewry, Virginia Democrat, has died.

Drewry's death and the resignation of Earle Clements, Democrat elected governor of Kentucky, left the political lineup in the House at 245 Republicans, 186 Democrats, one American-Laborite and three vacancies. The other vacancy was caused by the resignation of Rep. Evan Howell, Illinois Republican.

The Senate started off with no vacancies and a lineup of 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats.

'Almost Completed'

White House aides reported President Truman has his message "almost completed." He called an unusual session of his cabinet for this afternoon to go over the message with the members.

The gulf which divides the President and the Republican-controlled legislative branch was pointed up perfectly by a new report that Mr. Truman might propose higher taxes on corporation profits in order to leave a margin for low bracket personal income tax relief without cutting total government revenues.

This was only one of the plain indications that the session will develop into a running controversy between the White House and the law-making majority from the fall of the opening gavel at noon right up to adjournment in June for the national political conventions.

Even as Mr. Truman was putting the finishing touches to what lieutenants described as a "slugging message" to be delivered in person tomorrow, Republicans staked out the lines for a fight of their own to cut taxes and slash government spending.

Developments Reported

There were these session-eve developments to indicate that dull Moments will be few and far between:

1. Chairman Taber (R.-N.Y.) of the House Appropriations Committee called the President's reported

To Make Survey

Australians Will Study Air Base Possibilities in Antarctic

Canberra, Australia, Jan. 6 (AP)—Prime Minister J. B. Chifley, commenting on the Australian occupation of Heard Island, said the polar expedition was empowered "to survey all possibilities" for air bases in the Antarctic.

The island, some 3,500 miles off Australia, was occupied December 26 at about the same time the Union of South Africa raised her flag on Prince Edward Island, also in the Antarctic. Chifley said there was no prearranged plan between the dominions and that no special significance should be attached to the simultaneous landings.

Officials of the External Affairs Department said Australia had laid claim to 2,000,000 square miles of the Antarctic territory, nearly as large an area as the Australian continent itself.

Stassen Testimony Is Postponed Until Friday at Capital

Senate Subcommittee Will Hear What He Has to Say Regarding Speculation

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen's appearance before a Senate committee to back up his assertions that government insiders have profited from commodity speculation was delayed today until Friday.

Stassen, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will be the first witness when a Senate appropriations subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) reopens public hearings into commodity speculation.

The former Minnesota governor had been slated to appear Thursday morning. Ferguson said Stassen told him over telephone late last night that he has a long-standing speaking engagement in Pennsylvania which will prevent his testifying then. He added Stassen said he would be glad to appear.

Ferguson told reporters the delay also will give the committee additional time to prepare its evidence in the case of Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, President Truman's personal physician, who will be an early witness.

Ferguson announced the schedule change as the committee resumed taking secret testimony from government employes who have acknowledged trading in commodities.

William C. Brister, director of the food supply division of the State Department's Institute of Inter-American Affairs, was the scheduled opening witness at today's (10:30 a. m.) preliminary hearing by the appropriations subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.).

The State Department informed the committee last week that Brister was one of three of its officials who have acknowledged that they traded in commodities since July 1, 1946.

The other two, John C. Montgomery and Paul F. McGuire, testified at a closed hearing yesterday. Montgomery is an official of the foreign policy section and McGuire of the office of finance and developmental policy.

Ferguson told reporters they were called in to explain their accounts and name their brokers so that committee investigators will be able to investigate their dealings.

He indicated both will be summoned to appear at the open hearings later.

Three Persons Are Hurt in Collision Of Bus, Truck at Fleischmanns

Paul Celuch, Loomis Girl Are in Serious Condition at Margaretville

Three persons were injured, two critically, in a collision between a bus and milk tank truck this morning about 8:30 in Fleischmanns.

The injured:

Paul Celuch, 40, of O'Neil street, Kingston, driver of the bus owned by the Kingston-Pine Hill Bus Corporation, 27 Clinton avenue.

Jacqueline Loomis, 15, of Phoenicia.

Herman Hoffman, 15, Mt. Tremper.

At the Margaretville Hospital this afternoon, Celuch and the Loomis girl were said to be in critical condition. Herman Hoffman had been released after treatment, it was reported.

State Police of the Margaretville station, who investigated, said that no arrests had been made.

According to the troopers, the bus on its way to Margaretville, traveling west on Route 28, and the tank truck, owned by T. I. McCormack of New York city, and driven by James Young, 47, of New York, in an easterly direction, collided at a narrow icy spot in the highway.

According to the report, the damage to the vehicles was on the left front end of the bus and center of the tank truck.

There were a number of school children on the bus, with other passengers, but all escaped injury except those named, according to the police.

State Police from Margaretville detailed to the scene of the accident were W. M. Waldron, H. F. Knapp, Edward Elmendorf and E. B. Bartley. Trooper Ray Dunn of Phoenicia also worked on the accident detail.

The injured were removed to the Margaretville Hospital where three physicians administered to them, Drs. Abraham Weinberg and Clarence Holcomb of Margaretville and Dr. Alfred Oppenheim of Fleischmanns.

See Embargo Ending

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Early removal of the embargo on nonessential freight requiring lighterage in New York harbor was looked for today by city officials as the weather continued moderate and the storm cleanup neared completion. G. C. Randall, port traffic manager for the Association of American Railroads, said the embargo may be lifted. City officials hoped it would be by Thursday or Friday. The embargo was invoked last Saturday as a result of congestion in North Jersey freight yards brought on by the recent record snowfall.

Grumet Resigns Post

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet, who has prosecuted several of New York's most celebrated murder defendants in the past few years, resigned today as chief of the homicide bureau to resume private law practice. Lonergan who in 1944 was convicted of second degree murder for the slaying of his wife.

Greek Army Strength to Be Increased by 12,000 Men

Athens, Jan. 6 (AP)—With the consent of the United States, the strength of the Greek army is to be increased by 12,000 men and the manpower of the national guard is to be boosted to 50,000 men, Premier Themistokles Sophoulis announced last night.

The decision, he said, constitutes a reply to the help given Communist rebels by Greece's neighbors and is intended to encourage those who defended and liberated Konista in the last week of the old year. The announcement was issued after Sophoulis conferred for two hours with Dwight P. Griswold, head of the American aid mission to Greece.

The size of the army thus will be swelled from 120,000 men to 132,000. The present strength of the national guard is 20,000 men, making a total increase for the two branches of 42,000 men.

By strengthening the national guard, Sophoulis said, the army will be freed of guard duties and enabled to pursue and attack the guerrillas of Markos Vafiades, the rebel chieftain, who has proclaimed a Communist state in Greece, but who has been unable yet to find a seat for his government.

At the same time, the U. S. State Department announced in Washington that as part of the program to aid Greece in its fight against Communism Britain had been given blanket authority to

Bogert Promises Relief For Those Lacking Oil

Distributors Say Too Many New Burners Are Being Installed

Fuel oil shortages in some county areas were stressed at a hearing in the court house this morning before D. Z. V. Bogert of New Paltz, area coordinator, who said at the end of the session that means will be found to aid those in most immediate need.

County dealers complained at the meeting that too many new oil burners were being installed, emphasized a shortage of tanks and general shipping facilities and some were suspicious of monopoly tactics by the bigger oil interests.

The session also stressed the point that consumers in some county areas were in more immediate need of oil than those in the city, and a few county dealers felt that an immediate temporary measure would not solve their problem.

A major complaint was that recently installed oil burners were causing an extra drain on available supplies, but no specific plan was advanced to impose restrictions.

The coordinator explained that the purpose of the session was to find a means of relieving those who face serious shortages, and he declared "We've got to take care of those people who find themselves in difficulty." This must be done, he said, whether the consumer involved had an oil burner for a year or installed one within the month.

One dealer indicated that the growing shortage would soon resolve itself into a day-to-day problem. He had only a two-day supply on hand he said, and expected a total of four days more on allotment.

Another dealer feared that 300 customers would be out of oil for a few days unless he could be guaranteed more oil from his supply source.

The co-ordinator indicated that he was not expected to take any action in the relationship between the dealers and supply sources, but suggested that some action may be possible from a higher source.

One dealer advised those who cannot get their quota to write to the Small Business Committee of the U. S. Senate in care of Senator Ives, and they would obtain results.

Willing to Help

Two of the larger independent dealers said they were willing to help in any emergency if it is found necessary, and one added: "If we have got to penalize ourselves, we will do it, but we cannot let somebody else set back with supplies for later profit."

The same dealer asked that an effort be made to obtain the figures on supplies available from the bigger oil companies so that they would not be allowed to force the small dealers to bear the brunt of whatever emergency action is required.

One dealer said that last Janu-

Nazis Are Told Of Their Roles

Twenty-One Are Described as Key Figures in Hitler's Plans

Nuernberg, Jan. 6 (AP)—Twenty-one top ranking Nazi civil servants, including eight foreign office executives, stood before a U. S. War Crimes Court today and heard themselves described as key figures in Adolf Hitler's plans for world conquest.

"Here are the men who transformed the plans and ideologies of the Third Reich into action," Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief American prosecutor, told the court in a five-hour speech opening the trial.

Characterizing the defendants as "comparable in importance" to Hermann Goering and other top Nazi leaders condemned to death in the same room, Taylor declared:

"These men had great power and they have much to answer for. Without their administration and implementation and without the directive orders which they prepared, no Hitler, no Goering could have planned or waged aggressive war; no Himmler could have wiped out 6,000,000 Jews."

Taylor singled out as a target of special scorn the eight foreign office executives, headed by Baron Ernest von Weizsaecker, number two man under Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and one-time ambassador to the Vatican.

The American prosecutor closed his address to the court by accusing "these bureaucrats" of hatching the "final solution of the Jewish problem" early in 1942. He said he would prove that they held a cold-blooded session at which the outright murder of 11 million European Jews was decided upon.

Those in the dock with Von Weizsaecker included Otto Meissner, secretary of state under President Hindenburg and Hitler; Otto Dietrich, chief press control officer under Paul Joseph Goebbels; Richard Darre, former commissioner of agriculture; Gottloeb Berg, chief of prisoner-of-war affairs, and Paul Koerner, Goering's deputy.

They are charged with eight counts, which embrace war crimes, crimes against peace and crimes against humanity.

Joining Taylor in presenting the case were Robert Kempner of Landsdowne, Pa.; Charles S. Lyon, New York city; H. W. Camming, New York; Paul Gantt, Williamsburg, Va.; Alexander G. Hardy, Cochituate, Mass.; John Lewis, New York, and James Fitzpatrick, Washington.

Von Weizsaecker—the first German ever to obtain permisssion to be defended by an American attorney here—was represented by Warren F. Magee of Washington, D. C. The remaining 20 defendants were represented by German counsel.

Turck Will Preside at First Regular Meeting of Year

A new city budget for 1948 which will come within the two-per cent tax limitation has been prepared by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, and will be presented by him to the Common Council tonight.

Although Mayor Newkirk would not disclose any specific cuts made in the estimates submitted to him by the outgoing administration, he told a Freeman reporter that his budget would definitely meet state requirements which demand that the amount appropriated for general city government may not exceed two per cent of the total assessed valuation of the city.

Department estimates of appriations needed for 1948, as revealed by retiring Mayor William F. Edelmuth at a public hearing Monday morning, December 24, exceeded the state-imposed limitation by some $400,000, and if adopted would result in a tax rate of $48.68 per thousand.

It is expected that Mayor Newkirk will appear in person to submit his budget to the Common Council. The meeting will be held in the council chambers at the city hall, and will begin at 7:30 p. m. It will be the first regular meeting of the Council for 1948.

This year's council will contain a Republican majority, with seven Republicans and six Democrats having been successful in last November's elections. Presiding will be Alderman-at-large Charles J. Turck, Republican, who was elected by a substantial majority to succeed John J. Schwenk, who declined to run for reelection.

Asked whether or not his new budget would necessitate rescinding action taken by the Board of Fire Commissioners and the Board of Public Works in granting salary increases to their employes, Mayor Newkirk replied that he had no comment at this time.

Division Is Circled

Moslem Tribesmen Settle Down for Siege of Kashmir Capital

Karachi, Pakistan, Jan. 6 (AP)—Moslem tribesmen were reported today to have surrounded an Indian division in Jammu, winter capital of the Maharajah of Kashmir, and to have laid siege to that city.

Pakistan intelligence officials said the tribesmen had cut the Indians' lines of communication and that the trapped troops had been without supplies except by air for two days.

The tribesmen besieging Jammu, southwest of the capital at Spinagar, were said to have invaded Kashmir from Khusan Province in Afghanistan.

Indian troops have been fighting Moslem warriors in Kashmir since last October.

Tractor-Trailer Upsets at Corner In Saugerties

A large tractor-trailer jackknifed and upset at the intersection of Hill and South Partition streets, Saugerties, at 6 a. m., today when the driver, Charles R. Mayer, of 324 Eastern Road, Plainfield, Ind., made a quick turn, he said, to keep from running into the Esopus creek.

Two Saugerties police officers, John Keeley and William Rightmyer, told a reporter that Mayer informed them he fell asleep while driving the huge truck, loaded with plastic powder, to Worcester, Mass. He escaped injury.

The vehicle, owned by the Mayer Trucking Company of Plainfield, Ind., escaped crashing into the McMullen building by two feet, the officer said and upset on the highway, tying up traffic for a considerable time.

A wrecker from the Van Kleeck garage on 9W bypass, Kingston, towed the tractor in for repairs.

Perry Says Truck Struck and Damaged

Malden, Mass., Jan. 6 (AP)—Two-year-old Roberta Wolfberger of St. Louis was reported in "fair condition and wonderful spirits" today at Massachusetts Lying-in Hospital where she is undergoing treatment for cancer.

Hospital officials said Dr. S. B. Pearlmutter, her physician, did not plan an immediate operation. Her ailment was diagnosed by St. Louis specialists as cancer of the kidney, intestines and stomach.

Advised that the case probably was hopeless, her parents brought the baby here by plane Sunday.

Roberta has a playmate in five-year-old Peggy Ann Linehan of Yonkers, N. Y., who also is being treated for cancer by Dr. Pearlmutter.

ary he had 27,000 gallons on hand, but that his quota this month was 6,500 gallons, and another said that he had been cut off by his supply source " completely without any notice.

The general report was that the shortage was not serious at present in Kingston, but it was becoming a problem in some areas of the county. One of the larger independent local dealers predicted that "it will be worse next year than it is now."

Suggestions at the session ranged from the re-installation of grates in oil-burning furnaces to an all-out effort of consumers to conserve oil. The co-ordinator said that while the session resulted in no definite plan of action, he felt it was an indication that some action will be taken to relieve consumers in most immediate need.

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Truman summoned his cabinet to meet at the White House at 4 p. m. today. The President's aides would give no reason for the unusual Tuesday session. No session was held last Friday because a number of the members were out of town.

Palestinian Situation Brings On Snipers' Duel in Jerusalem

Jerusalem, Jan. 6 (AP)—Gunfire sounded almost constantly in Jerusalem today as 1,500 beleaguered Jews in the old city kept up a sniper's duel with numerically superior Arab riflemen.

Arab sources meanwhile reported that Hagana machinegunners had made dawn attacks on two Arab villages on the outskirts of Jerusalem but had been beaten off by the villagers. Casualties in these engagements remained unknown, but it was believed they were light.

Police said Jewish snipers killed a nine-year-old Arab boy in Jerusalem. A British constable was shot to death near the center of Jaffa.

The unofficial count of persons slain in Palestine's communal warfare since the United Nations decided upon partition November 29 rose to 597.

In the Katamon quarter of Jerusalem British troops and police continued to comb the wreckage of the bomb-razed Semiramis Hotel. Police complained that they had been shot at during the night by unidentified persons—whom they believed to be Jews—but there were no casualties.

Just before noon rescue workers removed from the hotel ruins, alive but badly injured, a 28-year-old Arab woman who had lain buried in the debris for 30 hours.

Protection Is Asked

The Jerusalem Consular Corps sent delegations to the Palestine government asking greater protection, and to the Jewish Agency and Arab Higher Executive asking both to observe international courtesy, in respecting the safety of diplomats.

They acted after discussing the death Sunday at the bomber Semiramis Hotel of M. Allende Salazar, acting Spanish consul, and the repeated experiences of all consuls in being stopped at Arab road blocks and forced to show credentials.

The Jewish agency said through a spokesman the death of the Spaniard was a tragedy and that "Hagana (the underground Jewish defense force) had been cautioned to be more careful."

"The fact that so many innocent persons were killed in the Semiramis attack may have been due to faulty intelligence work by Hagana," the spokesman said. "The severity of the explosion may have been the result of munitions stored previously in the building by Arabs."

Worked Four Hours

British troops struggled for four hours removing stones at the direction of the trapped Arab woman before she was brought from the wreckage of the hotel.

Her voice still strong and courageous, Mrs. Khalil Dajani, wife of an Arab policeman who was literally blown to safety by the bomb blast, told rescue workers that she was pinned by stones which had crushed her left arm.

An Arab doctor was called to the scene with oxygen equipment in case it was needed and tea was siphoned to her by a long rubber hose. Part of the woman's body was visible through a small aperture in the heap of stones which had trapped her as she slept.

Dctors said she apparently never lost consciousness when the bomb went off and had lain pinned immovable ever since.

Dajani said he and his wife had been residing in a small Arab village outside Jerusalem, but moved to the Semiramis Hotel Sunday for safety after the village had been attacked by Jews.

Congress Convenes budget of $40,000,000,000 "too damn high" and promised to whittle it down.

2. Chairman Knutson (R.-Minn.) of the House Ways and Means Committee reiterated his determination, with leadership backing, to jam through a $5,600,000,000 tax-reduction bill which will provide at least a percentage reduction for everybody.

3. The administration abandoned its attempt to have Congress specify a possible $17,000,000,000 outlay for European recovery over the next four years but ran into new Republican demands for further alterations in the hotly debated Marshall program.

4. Top G.O.P. leaders in both Senate and House fired a verbal broadside at the administration and blamed it for the present high cost of living.

What the President will say in tomorrow's state of the union message, or the exact amount he will ask in his budget message next Monday, remained official secrets. But there were forecasts that Mr. Truman will mince no words.

One Capitol Hill official in close touch with the White House predicted that the President will take a firm stand against trimming the amount of tax money now flowing into the treasury.

From one of Mr. Truman's own advisers it was learned that the Chief Executive has been considering setting forth an administration tax relief plan which would "take a little of the tax burden off at the bottom and add a little more at the top."

The Knutson measure would increase personal exemptions from $500 to $600, apply the income-splitting community property principle to all states and reduce tax rates by from 30 per cent in the lower brackets to 10 per cent at the top. It would not change present corporation tax payments.

Taking note of some talk among Democrats of offering their own, smaller tax reduction bill, Knutson commented:

"I assume they want to give all the relief to the lower brackets, where the voters are. They don't want to give anything to the men who create the jobs."

"The only way we can get Mr. Truman to reduce expenditures," he added, "is to reduce his income, and that can be done by reducing taxes."

Twice Vetoes Bills

Mr. Truman last year twice vetoed bills similar to the one Knutson has ready, and congressional Democrats are looking for a third rejection if the Republicans get behind the pending measure.

The administration decision to drop the fight for a specific cash commitment for the whole Marshall plan came in response to a suggestion from Chairman Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) of the Senate foreign relations committee.

And while it took some of the fire out of the recovery program issue, some of Vandenberg's G.O.P. colleagues left no doubt that they have enough ammunition left to make a scrap.

The Michigan Republican said he favors a four-year authorization without a price tag attached, but a number of other lawmakers are opposed to any action except on a straight year-to-year basis.

Furthermore, there are fireworks ahead over the $6,800,000,000 sum Mr. Truman wants for the first 15 months of the Marshall plan, beginning April 1.

And sharp disagreement still exists, too, over the method of handling any kind of a recovery program. The administration want it left to the State Department but Republicans generally favor a congressionally created bi-partisan agency to do the job.

In advance o an actual look at Mr. Truman's budget for the government year starting July 1, Taber set no figure for a projected reduction. But the appropriations committee chairman said that if it hits the $40,000,000,000 figure reported for it he would like to see it cut in two, even though he acknowledged that such a goal could not be attained.

Taber's House committee already is considering requests of some departments for finances, and the Senate-House budget committee he also heads probably will meet soon to try to fix a pattern for future appropriations.

Echoes of the hectic special session which closed only 18 days ago also seemed certain to resound with predictions that Mr. Truman will renew his plea for power to fight inflation with standby price control and rationing authority.

Broadcast Is Made

Chairman Taft of the Senate Republican policy committee joined four other G.O.P. leaders in a half-hour radio broadcast last night built around the theme that the blame for high prices must rest squarely on the White House.

"As long as we have lavish Marshall plans," Taft said, "police state methods won't curb inflation."

Democrats, the Ohioan added, "always tried to bring on inflation" and "don't know anything but inflation." He claimed the Republican Congress has given the President "all the powers needed to stop inflation by American methods * * * except the O.P.A. and wage fixing and allocation—police state methods."

House G.O.P. Leader Halleck of Indiana put in that if the Republicans had not "got production under full speed ahead" prices would be higher than they are now.

Other participants in the broadcast were Speaker Martin, (Mass.) Chairman Millikin (Colo.) of the Conference of All Senate Republicans, and G.O.P. National Chairman Carroll Reece.

Taft went on the air after the Senate Republican policy committee gave priority for Senate action to the St. Lawrence Seaway proposal, and House-approved bills to build up the State Department's foreign information service and to broaden the civil service retirement program.

The three measures are expected to keep the Senate busy until its foreign relations committee completes hearings, starting Thursday, on the European Recovery Plan, and until the banking committee considers several anti-inflation proposals, including a return to controls over installment buying.

Dog Locked Door

The fire department reported that they received a call Monday evening from Edna Mae Westfall, occupant of Apartment 7, at 6 Thomas street, that she had been locked out of her room, and that her electric iron was turned on inside the room. She said that her dog had jumped against the door, which had the night latch on. Truck No. 1 was sent from Central station, and Mrs. Westfall was readmitted to her room. No damage had been done by the iron, firemen said.

Magnetic Control Helps Trains During Heavy Fog

London (AP)—While Britain was covered by the year's worst fog, early-morning commuters aboard a train from Shoeburyness, at the mouth of the Thames, reached London on time, without a hitch. Their train was guided by a new magnetic control device. Impervious to frost, the mechanism stops trains before they arrive at a danger signal by sounding a horn in the engine cab and slowly applying the brakes.

The new safety equipment has been fitted to 183 locomotives on the rail lines from London to the east coast.

Meat Shortage Looms As Butchers Threaten

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Threat of a meat shortage hung over parts of New York city and Long Island suburbs today as 3,000 meat cutters were under orders of union leaders not to report for work Friday at plants of five of the largest wholesalers and processors in the metropolitan area.

The action was announced last night by Max Block, president of Local 342, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America (A.F.L.), who said it was caused by a breakdown in negotiations with the plants.

Block said the planned walkout probably would affect 4,000 other butcher workers who are not members of the union.

Union officials said the men seek a $5 weekly general wage increase, a $10 increase to a $70 weekly minimum, a 45-hour, five-day work week to replace the present 48-hour, five and a half day week, two weeks' paid vacation, an employer-paid welfare fund, and retention of the seven full and four one-half day holidays the workers now enjoy.

Snow, Warm Water Bad for Frostbite Physicians Learn

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

Cleveland, Dec. 6 (AP) — The worst blizzards may be over, but the frostbite weather is still ahead, and whatever you do with the frostbites don't rub snow on them, and don't put them in warm water.

Let them warm up in a room at ordinary temperature. Anything else, including the snow and the water, makes them worse.

These are the finding made on 18 human volunteers who subjected themselves to the most painful frostbitites, shown at the scientific exhibition of the mid-winter meeting of the American Medical Association by Doctors Kurt Lange, Linn J. Boyd and David Weiner, of New York Medical College.

The probable reason for the persistent, old belief in rubbing on snow, was found by some men who laid both hands on the pavement, bare, for hours, in a temperature of 12 above zero.

One hand was allowed to warm at room temperature. The skin blistered quickly. The other hand was kept for a long time in a cold box. There wasn't a blister, as long as the hand remained in the cold. But when it came out, the blisters formed, and they were worse than on the other hand. Dr. Lange said people probably made the mistake of thinking delaying the blisters did some good.

The warm water was 72 degrees, really little different than the room temperature. The hands warmed in water were not as badly damaged as those kept in the cold, or rubbed with snow. But they were worse than the hands that warmed in the room air.

New Drug Treatment

The experiments, plus those used on rabbits, led to a new treatment for frostbite, by use of the comparatively new drug, heparin. This chemical prevents blood from clotting.

The heparin was injected into the blood, not at the place of freezing. The hands of the men who received heparin recovered without gangrene. Those not receiving heparin had gangrene. Both heparin patients and the others lost their fingernails, but the nails grew again and finally the hands of the men with heparin recovered without any permanent skin damage.

The rabbit blood tests showed why. After freezing of a leg or other part, the blood became like sludge. This sludge caused gangrene. Heparin prevented the sludge.

Dr. Lange said these measures apply only to frostbite, that is frozen hands, feet, toes, fingers, ears or noses. When the entire body is chilled so that temperature drops below normal, then heat must be used, and room temperature is not fast enough.

Seek Court Action

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Three struck cable companies sought court action today enjoining the C.I.O. American Communications Association from refusing to handle foreign messages sent to or from interior domestic offices on land lines. The companies, involved since Friday in a strike of overseas communications workers, yesterday appealed to the National Labor Relations Board to seek a federal court injunction against the union because it allegedly had refused to handle "struck copy" on domestic land lines.

'Impressed' Britisher Became 'Yank' Overnight, Collected

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—The New York Daily News related today what it termed "the extraordinary saga" of a former British seaman who was "hustled" into the U. S. Army in England, "suffered court-martial and imprisonment, yet collected $2,500 in benefits" in his guise as an American soldier.

The newspaper, in a copyrighted story, identified the man as Alistair Nicholson, 23, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and said he was deported from the United States as an alien in April, 1946, only to be "shipped home" as a G.I. after U. S. authorities in England decided he was an American army deserter.

In Washington, army spokesmen said last night they had no comment on the case.

The Daily News said Nicholson's fantastic Odyssey began in a Southampton restaurant where he ordered coffee instead of British tea, arousing the curiosity of an American army officer who accused him at first of being an "American seaman who's jumped ship."

"In no time at all," the story quoted the young Scot, "four M.P.'s pulled up in jeeps," handcuffed him and "hustled" him off.

"They finally decided I must be a deserter from the American army," he said. "They wouldn't believe I was British, and pointed out that I had no British accent."

The newspaper said Nicholson, under persistent questioning, finally "gave up in despair and said: 'All right, I'm an American and a member of the army.'"

The News said Nicholson, giving "fantastic" replies to the questions of interrogators, rattled off the first serial number that popped into his mind—one that "I couldn't have repeated" 10 seconds later.

A court-martial followed, the story related, and the Scot was sentenced to three months and fined $99. Eventually released, Nicholson then was "shipped home" to the U. S. where he arrived Sept. 21, 1946.

Two months later, the News said, Nicholson, who had given the name of Fred P. Bast while being questioned, was released from the army.

Since then, the newspaper continued, he has received these benefits:

"$1,257.31 back pay; $300 mustering-out pay; $14.50 travel pay; $920 service men's readjustment allowance, commonly known as 52-20, or veterans' unemployment pay. Total $2,496.81."

The News reproduced what it described as Nicholson's army "discharge." The document listed these decorations and citations:

The American Theatre Ribbon, the European African Middle Eastern Theatre Ribbon, the Victory Medal, the Good Conduct Medal and Army of Occupation Medal.

He used the "benefits" to tour this country, the story said, adding that "he expects to 'be in lots of trouble' with the authorities."

The News said Nicholson declared he "surrendered to a newspaper first because he feared a cover-up of the army's part in 'impressing' him into the service through their rough and ready methods in Southampton.

"They might send me to prison where I might be buried for years," the paper quoted the Scot as saying. "I realized my story sounded so fantastic that no official would believe me. I would like a chance to pay the government back the money and live in this wonderful country or else go to Canada, where I have many relatives in Niagara Falls, Ont."

The News added that it had "verified in this country and the British Isles most of the details in the amazing story of official blundering and army red tape that Nicholson tells."

Dewey to Propose Ways of Fighting Inflation in Talk

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—Governor Dewey, in his annual message to the legislature tomorrow, will propose ways of combatting inflation.

A source close to the governor disclosed the message would "deal overall with the general problems of inflation and their effect on state and local governments and the lives of the people."

He said the governor would define "steps the state can take to avoid adding fuel to the fires of inflation."

Dewey will read his 7,000-word message personally to the legislature when it convenes for its 171st session tomorrow noon.

His remarks on inflation are expected to attract national attention because of his position as an undeclared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The governor will outline in general terms his legislative program for 1948. He will save for special messages detailed recommendations on major proposals.

Among those will be the contemplated state university and the outlawing of racial and religious discrimination in admission to private colleges and universities.

Dewey went over his message with Republican legislative leaders at a seven-hour conference yesterday.

Among those at the meeting was Edwin F. Jaeckle, Erie county G.O.P. chairman and former state chairman of the party.

His presence lent substance to reports that since he and Dewey established a rapprochment after a long rupture Jaeckle has been playing a major role in the administration's political strategy.

Jaeckle, J. Russel Sprague, national committeeman from New York, and Herbert Brownell, former national G.O.P. chairman, are understood to be Dewey's basic board of strategy in the governor's campaign for the presidential nomination.

Dewey will entertain Republican members of the legislature and his staff at a buffet supper at the executive mansion tonight.

Meanwhile, the Democrats of the Assembly will meet to decide whether to designate an acting minority leader to replace Irwin Steingut of Brooklyn.

Steingut is ill at home and may not be able to come to Albany at any time during the session.

It was reported his leadership duties would be shared by Eugene F. Bannigan of Brooklyn and William E. Clancy of Queens.

After hearing the governor's message, the legislature will adjourn until Monday night.

The KAISER and the FRAZER need no changes to bring them up-to-date!

You really should investigate what the Kaiser and the Frazer offer you before you buy any car! If you don't, you may let habit lead you into an investment which can soon be greatly depreciated. You might buy a "new" car which is merely a "face-lifted" prewar model. The chances are that such a "new" car will be obsoleted when its manufacturer gets around to announcing a really new, postwar automobile! What happens to your investment then?

You take no such gamble when you buy a Kaiser or a Frazer. These cars are new from the ground up. And their newness is by no means confined to the styling which has been so flatteringly imitated! There is new design, new engineering and new manufacturing technique in virtually every feature of these ultra-modern cars. For proof, examine the Kaiser-Frazer exclusives described below — just a few among scores! Come in and see the others!

The ride you never forget! K-F's engineers discarded prewar ideas of chassis construction. By redistributing mass and load, and by cradling both seats between the wheels, they created a ride never known before in any car.

Wider than high by 8½ inches! But that's only half the story of the super-safe roadability of the Kaiser and the Frazer. A low center of gravity and effortless steering give you that feeling that car and road were made for each other!

Moving the rear seat well forward of the rear wheels provides twice as much luggage space as in the highest priced cars on the road! There is ample room for seven large bags in this spacious 27-cubic-foot compartment — in addition to the spare wheel and tire.

Two hundred miles is hardly half a tankful in a Kaiser or a Frazer! Many owners report phenomenal economy — 24 miles to the gallon and more — in these cars equally acclaimed for their sprightliness in traffic and their hill-leveling power on the highways.

You pay the regular price • No trade-in necessary • Highest allowance on your old car • Immediate delivery!

The Blue Laws

A correspondent desires to know what were the blue laws of New England. In Kendall's "Travels in America in 1807," they are given substantially as we publish them. Those strange prohibitions have long since become obsolete, but as curious specimens of legislation in the early days of New England we produce them for the amusement of our readers:

No quaker or dissenter from the established worship of this dominion, shall be allowed to give a vote for the election of magistrates, or other officer.

No food or lodging shall be offered to a quaker, adamite or other heretic.

If any person turns quaker, he shall be banished, and not suffered to return, but upon pain of death.

No priest shall abide in the dominion, he shall be banished, and suffer death on his return. Priests may be seized by any one without a warrant.

No one to cross a river, but with an authorized ferryman.

No one shall run on the Sabbath day, or walk in his garden, or elsewhere, except reverently to and from meeting.

No one shall travel, or cook victuals, make beds, sweep houses, cut hair, or shave on the Sabbath day.

No one shall kiss her child on the Sabbath or fasting day.

The Sabbath shall begin at sunset on Saturday.

To pick an ear of corn growing in a neighbor's garden, shall be deemed a theft.

A person accused of trespass in the night shall be judged guilty, unless he clear himself by his oath.

When it appears that an accused has confederates, and he refuses to discover them he shall be racked.

No person shall buy or sell lands without permission of the selectmen.

A drunkard shall have a master appointed by the selectmen, who are to debar him from the liberty of buying and selling.

Whoever published a lie to the prejudice of his neighbor, shall sit in the stocks, or be whipped fifteen stripes.

No minister shall keep a school.

A man bought one of those prefabricated houses and decided to save money by putting it together himself. After a couple of months of strenuous work he had it all assembled, and invited his friends over to see it.

Friend—My goodness, Joe, your house is upside down!

Joe—So that's it. No wonder I keep falling off the porch!

As bricklayers are scarce, probably those bank safety rooms, recently broken into, will be rebuilt with concrete and steel.

A waiter in a very swanky restaurant was horrified to see one of the patrons washing his spoon in the fingerbowl. Calling the manager, they both hurried to the man's table.

Manager—Why on earth are you washing your spoon in the fingerbowl?

Diner—For the perfectly good reason that I don't want to get ice cream all over my pocket.

Diner—Waiter, this soup is awfully weak.

Waiter—I know, sir. That's so you can see the pretty design on the bottom of the bowl.

"Happiness consists in the attainment of our desires, and in our having only right desires."—Augustine.

Patient—How can I ever repay your kindness to me?

Doctor—By check, postal order or cash.

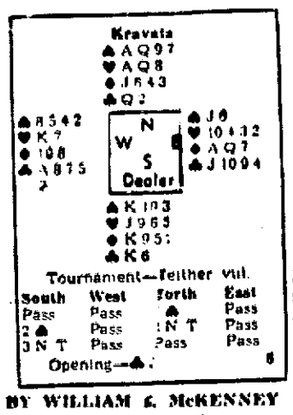
McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Two Good 'Breaks' Make 3 No Trump



BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for N.E.A. Service

When I asked Jack Kravatz of Chicago, one of the winners of the men's national team-of-four championship, for an interesting hand, he gave me the one shown today. Kravatz is a smart card player, but he admitted he was lucky to "get away with this one."

He covered the opening club lead with dummy's king, West won and returned a club, which Kravatz (North) won with the queen. Now he cashed the ace of spades and led a small spade to the dummy. East played the jack—break No. 1—and Kravatz won with the king.

The ten of spades was then cashed and a small heart played. He finessed the queen and when it held, he cashed the ace of hearts and got break No. 2—West's king fell.

Now Kravatz cashed the nine of spades, then led the eight of hearts. When East played the four-spot declarer finessed dummy's nine of hearts, and the jack of hearts gave him his ninth trick.

In the bidding you will notice the Kravatz partner bid two spades. The hand was entirely too strong to sign off at one no trump, and too weak to bid two no trump. It was not the type of hand on which you would want to bid two diamonds.

The better players often support with only three of partner's suit. After all, while your partner is allowed to bid a four-card suit he does not always have only four. If he does, he can show it by bidding two no trump as Kravatz did on this hand.

College Women Told Education Crisis Acute

In a recent report to American Association of University Women, of which Kingston's College Women's Club is a member, the crisis in education was announced as acute.

In part the release read as follows:

"Although a turn for the better in the condition of our public school system reversing the downward trend of the past five years, was reported by Dr. Kathryn McHale, General Director of the American Association of University Women and vice chairman of the Citizens Federal Committee on Education, to the A.A.U.W. National Committee on Education meeting recently at A.A.U.W. headquarters in Washington, D. C.; she stressed the fact, however, that the gains of the past year do not mean the end of the educational crisis which has centered about an acute shortage of well trained teachers.

"Drawing her information from a progress report just published by a subcommittee of the Teacher in America, of which she is chairman, Dr. McHale pointed out that during the past year: 1. Teachers, on the average, have received the largest salary increases that have ever been granted during a 12-month period. 2. Many states and communities have acted decisively to give teachers increased security and improve their working conditions through liberalized retirement allowances, provision for sick leave, tenur protection, and relief of the teaching load. 3. Old school plants have been improved and new ones built in many communities.

"But the rise in the cost of living during the past year has completely offset the average increase in teachers' pay, Dr. McHale reported. Some teachers are somewhat better off than in previous years; others have actually lost ground. The average teacher has the same buying power and occupies the same position in relation to other economic groups as at the start of the 1946-47 school year."

SHOKAN

Shokan, Jan. 5—Abram Chasan, a regular summer week-end visitor to Shokan, was the guest of relatives here recently.

A meeting of the Olive Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Saturday evening, January 10, at the Boiceville Inn. There will be a dinner at 7 o'clock followed by a business meeting. The new civic organization will elect a board of directors at this meeting.

Stanley Matthews, Sr., local property owner, is reported as being ill at his home in Hurley.

Yuletide exercises of the Shokan school, held in the schoolhouse with Edward Widerspiel as master of ceremonies, included a play, "The Truth About Santa Claus." Taking part in the play, and bringing out the truth that Santa Claus is really synonymous with Spirit of Giving, were the following: Alice Avery, Patrick McNamara, April Cohen, Teddy Lucas, Robert McNamara and Rudy Rossman. The play ended with the distribution of presents, which had been made by the children themselves, to their mothers. Other features of the entertainment included a piano solo, "Waves of the Danube," by Rudy Rossman; a recitation, "Jes' for Christmas," by Teddy Lukas, and the general singing of carols. Mrs. Rudolph Rossman furnished the piano accompaniments. Refreshments were served during the evening.

A local real estate transfer of Jan. 3, 1900, was that of an acreage from John Brown to John Gallagher. This was the woodlot on the west side of the Ridge Road, about half a mile north of Hogsback, now owned by John and James Rutherford. Mr. Brown was a farmer residing on the present Charles Greene place, while Mr. Gallagher, a well known musician lived at Olive (now Ashokan).

Ed. Wiederspiel, mountain road farmer, left Shokan Wednesday afternoon on a business trip to Chicago.

Peter Bostock, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Bostock of Bryn Athyn, Pa., spent the holidays at the family summer home in the Coons district. Peter drove his Fordson tractor down to the village Wednesday, pulling a long, home-made sled, upon which sat a charming and apparently, a very happy, young lady. The outfit, a novel blending of the old and the new in rural transportation, made an interesting and somewhat nostalgic sight, absence of jingle bells notwithstanding.

Teddy Lukas entertained his schoolmates and their parents at a home party in celebration of his birthday on December 26. Games and dancing, directed by Miss Beatrice Schreiner, were features of the party.

Coming birthdays include that on Wednesday, Jan. 7, of Mrs. Robert Secor, 97-year-old resident of the Tonche Mountain neighborhood. Mrs. Secor, whose maiden name was Anna Stewart, was brought up in Columbia county, but came here in early life and has since lived on farms along the mountainside. She enjoys the double distinction of being the oldest citizen and the sole Civil War pensioner of this section. The column extends sincere congratulations to this industrious and highly respected farm woman.

It's a Fact: In the old days when the Hudson Valley was beginning to come into its own as a big fruit-growing center, apples for European export were packed in barrels and shipped to New York by water. Upon one occasion, the schooner Onteora, left Hudson with 1,500 barrels of apples; the vessel was literally loaded to the gunwales with barrels which not only monopolized nearly all the lower section of the vessel, leaving just enough room for teams to pass through, but filled the inside storehouse as well. There remained as many filled barrels in tiers on the dock and the farmers up that way still had lots more to bring to town.

Accord, Jan. 5—A new system was started on January 1 which will be continued for three months denoting the close of school due to weather conditions. The fire siren will blow at 7 a. m., whenever, due to severe weather and bad roads, there is to be no school session at the local grade school.

The Rev. John Hart spent the New Year holiday in Jersey City, N. J., with his parents.

Lewis Miller, who has been ill at his home, is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Breslow spent the New Year week-end in New York.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Rochester Reformed Church will hold an all-day meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Percy W. Gazlay. A pot luck luncheon will be served at noon.

'Underground' Factories Are Deplored in Poland

Warsaw (AP)—The semi-official newspaper Rzeczpospolita says there's approximately 40,000 illegal minor artisan workshops in Poland employing 50,000 people.

"This 'underground,'" said the journal, "consists of artisans who are registered, but are not properly qualified, and some not registered."

It called for liquidation of "this state of things which would benefit not only the state in taxes but also society which often is liable to losses due to inadequate qualifications of artisans."

That New Look

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Senate page boys today have the "new look." They appeared at the start of the second session of the Eightieth Congress attired in long trousers. The traditional knickers were discarded, Senate officials said, because of the difficulty of finding long black stockings. House pages have worn regular business suits for some time past.

Woman, 80, Dies, Other, 72, Won't Leave Mountains

Suffern, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—Eighty-year-old Gracie Pitt is dead and the population of lonely, wind-swept Half Moon Mountain in the Ramapos has been cut in half.

Gracie died Sunday in her little cabin overlooking Peaceful Valley, and her frail body was brought down the mountainside yesterday by five men who slogged through snow drifts three to five feet deep. She had lived alone in the little cabin since her husband, Albert Pitt, died about a year ago. Just twice since then had she come down the mountain to town. On those occasions she stood for an hour or two in front of a Suffern bank "jest a-watchin' folks," and then returned to her cabin.

Half Moon Mountain's only resident now is Maggie Gannon, 72, housekeeper for Albert's brother, Gilbert, who died last May at 82. Ancestors of the Pitts and the Gannons took up residence on the mountain in pre-Revolutionary days. The two women had shrugged off all attempts to induce them to leave their isolated surroundings.

Maggie's cabin is 250 yards from the Pitt place. The five men found her in bed, snuggled under a half dozen blankets. They told her of Gracie's death.

"So?" she replied, peering over the blankets at them. "Ain't seen her since 'fore Christmas."

The men appealed to her to leave the mountain, now that she is alone, but she was adamant.

"You take Gracie and bury her; I'll stay in my mountains," she snapped.

They didn't argue, remembering that Maggie had been placed in the Rockland County Home for Poor and Aged after Gilbert's death but sneaked away a short time later and returned afoot to her cabin.

Gracie's body was discovered by a former resident of the mountain who had made one of his periodic trips to see that the women were supplied with food and firewood.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

AGAIN, MAN'S RING FINGER

In answer to several jewelers—especially those whose postmarks are of the newer sections of our vast country—I must repeat that American men of conservatively fastidious taste wear their wedding or other rings on their little finger. European men wear theirs on their third finger.

I never like to (and rarely ever do) give names, but perfect examples of the type of American and European men whose rings illustrate my point are the Honorable Winston Churchill who wears his ring on his third finger and our late President Roosevelt who wore his ring on his little finger. During the last war, wedding rings became almost as universal in the U. S. as they always have been in foreign countries and are being worn by the majority on their third finger. Even so, American men, whose ring prejudice is fastidious, look upon a third-finger ring as European.

Present for Son's Fiancee

Dear Mrs. Post: My son's fiancee's parents are giving a party soon to announce the engagement of their daughter. I would like to know if I should give her a present at this time. If so, what type of gift is suitable?

Answer: It is not necessary to give her a present at this time, but it is always a pleasing thing to do if you wish—especially if you have a family trinket that you think suitable for her.

Names Over Telephone

Dear Mrs. Post: To settle a long-standing argument, will you please tell me if it is proper for a man, when announcing himself on the telephone, to say, "This is Mr. Jones speaking?" In other words, should the "Mr." be used?

Answer: A man calling a woman whom he knows socially never under any circumstances would announce himself as "Mr." He would say, "This is John Jones." But a man calling a woman on business says, "This is Mr. Jones of Blank & Co." If he were calling a businessman, he would be likely to say, "This is Jones of Blank & Co."

Women Dancing Together!

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered proper for two women to dance together on a night-club dance floor?

Answer: In a night club, no!

AP Sports Editors Vote Michigan Team Superior to Notre Dame

In The Pocket

● Bagatelles:

"....." The foregoing space is dedicated to the scores rolled by the Kingston ladies in the IBM Polio Sweepstakes Saturday night in Poughkeepsie. This is all grapevine stuff, of course, since the dog-sled messenger bearing the hot news flashes from the IBM Country Club failed to mushin before the deadline for today's edition. The delay no doubt was directly attributable to lack of 86.8 proof fuel.

What meagre details we have are sanguinary, indeed. It is reported that the bowling heroics accomplished by the local female sharpies was gruesome enough to drive a large batch of husbands and sweethearts screaming madly into the nearest bistros on the Albany Post Road. These gentlemen are normally of the hardest bleacher species, but that they just couldn't survive.

A couple of our topflight bowling emissaries suffered a harrowing fate indeed. A large crowd stormed into the IBM lanes, which are sleek and pretty but about as productive of high scores as your basement floor. They stormed in, of course, to see the Kingston star, Rose Schatzel, pound out something in the neighborhood of 900 for her three games.

● The "900" Shrinks to 479 . . .

Mrs. Schatzel, who is extremely happy the WIBC Sweepstakes finals are being rolled in Dallas, Texas, instead of that idyllic retreat in Dutchess county, encountered mechanical difficulties early, and often. The anticipated "900" was scaled down gradually until by the 30th frame it had shrunk to a modest 479. The decline of the Schatzel dynasty came as a great shock and disappointment to the customers who griped and ranted and then stampeded to the boxoffice for refunds.

Another young lady of established pre-eminence among Kingston's keglerettes whose initials are M.J.—M for Marge and J. for Jansen—is reported among the missing, having fled into the Dutchess wilderness after two consecutive series in the neighborhood of 379 and two strikes in some 30 frames. In other words, Mrs. Jansen lifted 928 pounds of bowling balls and could show only two strikes for the whole ordeal. The social and mental degradation suffered by Mrs. Jansen was such that it is doubted among her intimates that she will ever return to the city.

● The Friends Always Help . . .

Her adoring husband, Art Jansen, the J. man in the S.J.S. alphabetical soup contracting firm, was a sad, lonely and pathetic looking figure Sunday night at the bowling alleys.

A group of friends spent hours consoling Art, trying to point out that those things happen in bowling. Jansen finally saw the light. Suddenly he straightened up, bit his lips, drew a deep breath and bleated:

"Shucks, come to think of it, a woman that bowls two "300" series in one week-end ain't much loss at that."

The theme song coming back from Poughkeepsie couldn't have been anything except "You can have them . . . you can have them . . . they're too tough for us."

● Flotsam and Jetsam . . .

K.H.S.-Beacon Game, 4 P.M.

The Kingston-Beacon high school basketball game originally scheduled for tonight in Beacon, was played instead at 4 o'clock this afternoon. K.H.S. officials received notice of the change in playing time yesterday.

Kingston entered the game handicapped by the absence of Bob Ghear, veteran guard, who has been on the shelf for two weeks with a leg sprain.

The Maroon went into the game with a winning streak of 19 straight. The locals trounced Beacon in the seasonal opener, 68-29.

Bowling Scores

Colonial Streak Now 19 Straight

The old warcry "Break Up the Colonials" is reverberating through the City Bowling League today. This accolade once reserved for American Legion powerhouse of yesteryear is being polished off for Pete Keresman's carefully graded and selected proteges.

The Colonials continued to make papier mache of the Monday night circuit, routing Jake's Grill in three straight games to extend their winning streak to 19 in a row.

And this mind you was supposed to be a "clutch" match against the vaunted Jake's Grill powerhouse. In the first game, the Jakes gave every indication they had been reading the Colonial scrap book when they unloaded a horrendous 770. The Colonials bagged the opener with a modest 859 but then poured on games of 1001 and 983, while Jakes became all tangled up in the Colonials scrapbook and clippings and fogged their way to a 2421.

Broskie Shoots 603

Hal Broskie powered a 603 blast with 165-233-205. Cliff Quick shot 217-591 in the lead-off; Larry Petersen had 226-589 and Les Hotaling 214-565. Vacation-minded Lew Hymes contributed only 495 but it didn't matter much.

Schneiders Jewelers rolled steadily with 1024-2847 to shut out the Immanuels, Randy Kelder sparking the attack with 236-602. Hod Spaulding authored 233-585; George Flemings 222-574 and "Pope" Myers 206-578.

In other matches reported, Jones Dairy and Jack's Restaurant won split decisions over Central Hudson and Bull Market.

The hotshots were Jack Haulenbeck 233-578; Joe Hoffman 236-586; Bill Kuehn 217-566; Ad Jones 191-562; Larry Weishaupt 228-534; Johnny Ferraro 202-202-579.

Wilber Tops Indies

Harry Wilber's 190-180-222-592 string was top performance in the Independent circuit. Cliff Davis continued his good shooting to rack up 205-586.

Elsewhere in the loop the better totals were: C. Middagh 213-532; Jim Daniels 213-554; Ray DuBois 225-571; Charlie Grunenwald 559; Bob East 541, P. J. Belchert 224-532; Roland Post 198-553.

Huber Leads Freeman

Nick Huber led The Freeman circuit with 178-485, nosing out Craig Plough by 15 pins. Plough's best single was 168. Warren Simmons posted 464, J. Walter "Peanuts and Popcorn" Scharp rolled 169-466.

K.A.A. Guest Wednesday

COACH FRANK LEAHY

The fabulous head coach of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish who will address the Kingston Athletic Association at The Barn, Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. Leahy has led Notre Dame through two consecutive unbeaten seasons. Three hundred persons will hear the speech in which Leahy is expected to comment on today's Associated Press poll which voted Michigan as the best college football team of 1947. K.A.A. officials said today some tickets are still available and can be reserved by calling Dick McCarthy, 4500.

Crisler Happy Man Today

Detroit, Jan. 6 (AP)—Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan, informed today that the nation's sports writers had rated his Wolverines superior to Notre Dame, commented that "the men who voted couldn't have made a mistake if they had picked either team."

In a post-season Associated Press poll, Michigan received 226 votes to 119 for Notre Dame with 12 writers calling the teams even.

"Of course, I feel highly honored on behalf of the team and the university and I am very much indebted to the Associated Press sports editors," the Michigan coach said.

"The men who voted couldn't have made a mistake if they had picked either team. Coach Leahy is a superb coach and both teams are fine. I am very humble, and happy for my kids about it all.

Asked if he thought Michigan could beat Notre Dame, Crisler said:

"That's an argument that will keep hot stove leagues going all winter. It isn't the function of an educational institution to win football games, nor would victory have any bearing on the degree the player gets."

Fullers and Sicklers Win Y League Contests

Joe Reaches Terms

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, veteran New York Yankee outfielder who has been reported holding out for $75,000 for the 1948 season, has reached terms with the club, George Weiss, general manager said today. Weiss did not announce the salary. DiMaggio was said to be getting from $40,000 to $45,000 last year. DiMaggio's signing took place last night, Weiss said, in the apartment of Dan Topping, president of the club.

Charlie Bock pumped in 16 points for Fullers; Al Bruce 13 and Eddie Bock 12. Woods led Sickler's with 14. G. Fitzgerald's 12 points led Governor Clinton Hotel.

Wolverines Get 226-119 Edge In Special Post-Season Poll

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—The burning sports question of the day—which was the greater college football power of 1947, Michigan or Notre Dame?—never to be settled on the field, was answered today at the ballot box—and it's Michigan almost two to one.

In a special Associated Press poll of sports editors and football writers from coast to coast, Michigan received 226 votes as the superior team to 119 for the Irish, while 12 of the experts suggesting the two mid-west giants should be rated equal.

A total of 357 writers, from each of the 48 states and the District of Columbia, took part in the "post-poll" poll, conducted by popular demand as the result of the New Year's Day game that saw Michigan's unbeaten, untied Wolverines smash Southern California in the Rose Bowl, 49-0.

Special Ballot

The new ballot does not supersede the Associated Press' regular final season rating of college football teams, released last December 8, which named Notre Dame the mythical national champion with Michigan the runnerup.

The 146 writers who cast ballots in that one gave the Irish 1,410 points to 1,289 for the Wolverines and awarded Notre Dame 107 first place votes, with Michigan getting only 25 and the other No. 1 tags going elsewhere.

The Irish, who led the nation's list through seven of the ten weeks of the campaign, won in the regular poll after a decisive 38-7 triumph over the same Southern California Trojans.

Many of the participants in the latest roll-call acknowledged their opinions were swayed largely by comparative scores which in two other instances swung the pendulum toward Fritz Crisler's men of Michigan.

Against the other two common opponents, the teams fared this way: Michigan walloped Pitt, 69-0, while Notre Dame did the job a little more mercifully, 40-6. The Wolverines rolled over Northwestern, 49-21, while the Irish, who also had a perfect season, trounced the wildcats, 26-19.

Heavy Mid-West Vote

Notre Dame supporters argued comparative scores should be no gauge because the Irish were inclined to "pull their punches."

"Michigan drew its heaviest backing from the mid-west—stamping grounds of the Big Nine—and even Notre Dame's home state, Indiana, voted even on the issue, eight to eight. The Wolverines received 29 votes within their home state.

The West coast, which saw the two powerhouses against the Trojans, was about equally divided in sentiment with California splitting its vote, ten to ten.

There was little to choose between the teams in the East balloting. New York went for Michigan, 12 to 8, but Pennsylvania voted even, 11 to 11.

The South went overwhelmingly for the Irish. Georgia backed Notre Dame, eight to two, and Frank Leahy's forces found almost equally good support in Tennessee, Maryland, Alabama and Mississippi. But Texas joined the Michigan bandwagon, 13 to 3.

Philly in OlympicBid

Philadelphia, Jan. 6 (AP)—Philadelphia today made its formal bid for the 1956 Olympic games.

The Quaker city's application for the 16th Olympiad was filed with the New York office of the United States Olympic Association by the Philadelphia Olympic Committee, headed by Arthur C. Kaufmann.

Philadelphia along with Detroit, Minneapolis and Los Angeles sent delegations to the meeting of the International Olympic Committee in Sweden last June, seeking the 1952 Olympiad. None of the American cities could obtain the necessary number of votes however, and the nod went to Finland.

As a result the U. S. committee decided to designate one American city as the nominee for the 1956 games, expected to be held in this country, and all contenders were given until January 7 to enter their applications.

Pro Gridders Would Abolish Extra Points

Philadelphia, Jan. 6 (AP)—The National Football League is going to consider elimination of points after touchdown at its annual rules committee huddle January 14.

N. F. L. Commissioner Bert Bell said yesterday Luke Johnson, assistant coach of the Chicago Bears, proposed the extra point elimination and suggested the "sudden death" method of settling a tie game—in which play would continue until one or the other team scores a touchdown, field goal or safety.

The pro loop will also consider these other rule changes:

1. That all players be numbered according to positions with the exception of a few well-known stars.

2. Permit use of an artificial tee on kickoffs.

3. Insist on padded covering of any part of players' equipment that is hard and unyielding to prevent injuries.

Hogan Wins L.A. Open

Los Angeles, Jan. 6 (AP)—Ben Hogan left town today, having accomplished the following feats in the game of golf:

Won the $10,000 Los Angeles Open for the third time;

Established a new record for the tournament at the Riviera Country Club with a 72-hole score of 275;

Turned back the initial threat of 1948 of South African Bobby Locke and the rest of the foreign invaders;

Featured an array of professionals and amateurs who attracted a record turnout of more than 40,000 during the four days of the 22nd annual Los Angeles fixture.

He raked the par-71 Riviera course with four successive sub par rounds — 68-70-70-67 — and staved off a challenge by former national open king Lloyd Mangrum in a round played in fog so thick the ball disappeared 50 yards after it was struck. Mangrum had a 279.

Hogan collected $2,000 for first place, Mangrum $1,400 for second, and Ellsworth Vines, the one time king of the amateur and pro tennis worlds, finished third for $1,000.

Tied one shot back were Sam Snead, who scrambled into the running with a 67, and Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich., who had a 73.

Lagging behind was the pre-tournament co-favorite with Hogan, Bobby Locke, who finished with an embarrassing 76 for 287 and a $400 consolation prize.

Henrich Signs; Terms Unknown

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Tommy Henrich, the New York Yankees' regular right fielder, had a new contract today for 1948, and although there was no mention of the terms, it was believed certain a wage raise was included.

Henrich, who batted .287 last year for his best season since 1940, came to terms after a 10-minute conference with General Manager George Weiss. The conference was held last Friday, but the Yankess withheld the announcement until yesterday.

As the No. 2 man in the New York batting order, Henrich drove in 98 runs in 1947, second only to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, who had 114.

Lions Risk Record Against Harvard

Boston, Jan. 6 (AP)—Columbia's Lions, undefeated this season in six contests, will open defense of their Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League championship tonight against Harvard at Boston Garden.

The other half of the collegiate doubleheader pits unbeaten Providence against St. Anselms.

Harvard was the last team to beat Columbia when it pulled one of the Ivy loop's biggest upsets last winter by beating the Lions, 66-50. Since then Columbia, led by Walt Budko, the Ram's top scorer, has won ten games without defeat.

Dell Headliner On First Card In Newburgh

An eight round bout between two outstanding lightweights — Johnny Dell of Brooklyn and Joe Apomtetorres of Porto Rico — tops a billing of 32 rounds of professional fights at the Avalon Recreation Center in Newburgh next Monday night.

Jimmy Ambrose, the Avalon matchmaker, announced today that the Newburgh appearance of the two fighters will be their third meeting. Apomtetorres decisioned Dell in a main-bout slug-fest at St. Nick's arena in New York city six weeks ago, and Dell was victorious in their first meeting last fall.

A young middleweight who won 14 fights in Newburgh last year as an amateur, will return to the scene of his fistic triumphs when he appears in the initial Avalon card. He is Tony Pelizzi of Long Island, who turned pro several weeks ago, and has won three bouts in New Jersey since that time. Pelizzi will meet Jerry Fallo of the Bronx in a six-round semi-final bout.

The Avalon fights will start at 9 p. m.

Legionnaires Drop 2 Games; Play House of David Friday

Playing without their full strength, the Kingston Legionnaires succumbed to the powerful Wappingers Pro-Vets, 41-26, over the week-end, after dropping a heart-breaking 59-60 thriller at the hands of the Beacon Legion in two road games.

The two losses set the Legionnaires' seasonal record at five wins and four defeats.

Andy Murphy III, the club's highest scorer missed the Wappingers fracas and the Legionnaires proved easy pickings for the strong home club. Murphy tallied 16 points against Beacon.

Buddy Smith, who scored 15 markers against Beacon was not available for the Wappingers battle.

Foul Shooting Wins

Superior foul shooting enabled Beacon to avenge an early season setback, the Dutchess cagers cashing in on 12 foul conversions against five for Kingston. The locals outscored the home club, 27-24 from the field. Charlie Bock contributed five set shots.

LaValle led the Beacon contingent with 15 points, with Mordas sinking 13 and Tomasi 12.

Wappingers, strengthened by Wes Westrum, ran up a 23-12 lead in the first half to outclass the locals. The Legionnaires gave a good account of themselves in the second half but with Murphy and Smith missing the Wappinger lead was insurmountable.

Lindhurst was high scorer with 11 points, while Catrill dropped 16 points for the winners. Every member of the Wappinger squad figured in the scoring.

Game Friday Night

The Friday night attraction at the municipal auditorium pits the Legionnaires against either the House of David or the crack Tadcaster Brewers of Worcester, Mass. Both are among the East's strongest independent squads.

F.B.I. Investigates Shipment of Arms To Middle East

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation pressed an inquiry today into circumstances surrounding an unsuccessful attempt to ship an estimated 65,000 pounds of T.N.T. from a Jersey City, N. J., pier to Palestine in violation of export regulations banning shipment of arms or munitions to the Middle East.

The explosives, packed in cases labeled industrial machinery, were impounded by authorities Saturday as they were being loaded aboard the Palestine-bound freighter Executorm. Their contents were revealed when one of the crates broke open during the loading operation.

The identity of the shippers has not been determined.

Entry of the F.B.I. into the case was disclosed yesterday simultaneously with a State Department announcement that such shipments to the strife-torn Middle East area have been prohibited since Dec. 5.

Coincident with the announcement, F.B.I. agents of the New York office took over jurisdiction of a Bronx warehouse where New York police had reported finding a crate-addressing stencil apparently linking the building to the T.N.T. shipment. Cartridge-making machinery, radio transmitting apparatus, motors, and electric equipment also were discovered there, police said.

Meanwhile, officials of the American Export Lines, which operates the freighter, said that two other vessels of its cargo fleet, the Exchester and the Export, are now in Palestinian waters and that they had radioed ships' officers to investigate freight on board carrying machinery labels.

The New York F.B.I. declined comment on the case.

Eight Men Are Injured At Monsanto Cave-in

Dayton, O., Jan. 6 (AP)—Atomic Energy Commission officials today launched an investigation into the cave-in of an underground concrete passage being built at the Monsanto atomic research plant at nearby Miamisburg.

Eight workmen were injured, one critically, last night when 30 to 60 tons of concrete, newly-laid over the passage, cascaded into the 30-foot-long tunnel, Kenneth Dunbar, area manager for the Atomic Energy Commission, reported.

Three workmen were inside the underground chamber when part of the cement let go. Several companions rushed to their aid, but five of them were trapped in a second slide. Only James Cronk, of Cincinnat., one of those working inside, required hospitalization, Dunbar said.

Glenn Maxon, Sr., a Dayton contractor whose men were building the passage, described the cave-in as "apparently just one of those things."

Continent Has Jitters

New York, Jan. 6 (AP) — The whole North American continent has had a bad case of jitters for the past two weeks—and it has nothing to do with holiday celebrating. The shaking of the earth is weather palsy—"miscrosisms" in scientific language — says Father Joseph J. Lynch, Fordham University's earthquake expert. "It's probably the worst it's been in history," the seismologist said last night. "There's been a sustained vibration of the whole continent for two weeks."

Makes Connection

Copenhagen, Jan. 6 (AP)—After waiting by the telephone for days, Princess Anne of Bourdon-Parma had a 10-minute talk with Ex-King Mihai of Romania yesterday after his arrival at Lausanne, Switzerland, her father, Prince Rene, said. "Princess Anne and her mother will go to Switzerland soon to join the King," the Prince added.

Riding Club Will Hear Talk at Bearsville

Woodstock, Jan. 6—The first of a series of educational talks to be given for members of the Woodstock Riding Club will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Odd Fellows Hall, Bearsville.

Edward L. Chase, chairman of the educational committee, will be assisted by Donald Warren and Joseph Bosch on this occasion. There will be a general discussion period following the lecture. Routine business of the club will be taken up before the educational period.

Wolfert Will Confer With Polonsky on Film

Woodstock, Jan. 6—About Ira Wolfert, author and newspaperman of Lake Hill who, we reported last week, was en route to Hollywood, A. H. Weiler writes in the New York Times: "Wolfert now is driving out to the coast to collaborate with Abraham Polonsky on the screen play and Polonsky also will direct.

"Ira Wolfert, whose report on the sea battles off Guadalcanal won him the Pulitzer Prize in 1943, has sold the film rights to his novel, 'Tucker's People' to John Garfield and Bob Roberts, producer and star of the currently successful 'Body and Soul.'"

John Garfield will star in Tucker's People which "deals with the numbers lottery in our town and stems from the first-hand background Wolfert obtained covering the Hines policy racket trials."

It is expected that work on the picture will begin in the late spring.

This book is not the first of Wolfert's work to be made into a picture. In 1945, "Guerrilla in the Philippines" written with Lieutenant I. D. Richardson was sold to Fox.

Heavy Snowstorms Help With Robinson Story

Woodstock, Jan. 6—While the heavy snows during the holidays disrupted transportation facilities in New York city, it was a boon to Universal-International Pictures who will produce "The Great Snow" which is being adapted from a novel by Henry Morton Robinson, Woodstock author and roving editor for Reader's Digest.

It is understood that when first reports of the storm were received by William Goetz, Universal's production chief, he wired the company's newsreel men in New York to photograph everything with snow on it. The photographing included Westchester county, Albany, and other locations mentioned in the story.

France Has It Tough In Highway Job Debut

Woodstock, Jan. 6 — Howard France had a tough initiation as Woodstock's new town superintendent of highways when he took office on January 1. Fortunately for Mr. France and the residents of the town, he has some 15 years experience on the roads behind him and went at his task like the veteran he is.

In an interview, Superintendent France stated that one plow was out of commission which hampered the road clearing somewhat. He spoke particularly, however, of the consideration of the people in the town, who seemed to understand that the road men were working as long and as hard as they possibly could to get all roads open. The first night the men worked until well after 2:30 a. m. Now they are busy widening the roads during the daylight hours and at night are removing snow from the center of the town.

The town equipment consists of two large plows, one grader and two small plows, all of which are in working order at this time. John Shultis, Ray Shultis, Newton Shultis and Walt Tiffany are assisting France in the job of keeping the roads open.

Superintendent France also remarked that it would be helpful in the snow removing project, if car owners refrained from parking their cars in the center of the town while the snow was being removed. This job will be completed as quickly as possible.

Times Critic Reviews Art By Karl Fortress in N. Y.

Woodstock, Jan. 6 — "Near Somewhere" by Karl Fortess, local painter, one of his 20 paintings being shown at the Associated American Artists Galleries, was reproduced in the Sunday publication of the New York Times and referred to by critic Howard DeVree as a title with a cynical note and then of "Spring Landscape" as an example "revealing him still a poet of moods for all the protest inherent in the other pictures exhibited."

In reviewing the one-man show which will continue through January 17, Mr. DeVree also says of Karl Fortess, "has also broken from his established molds in recent landscapes. First of all they are higher in key than he has hitherto permitted himself to range. Also, snow scenes such as that in the Whitney annual have given way to landscapes whose bleakness is accentuated by ruins or buildings in a state of demolition from desertion, storm or decay. Sometimes a rather surrealist overtone manifests itself. Here, too, although in such different manner, one feels that a consciousness of our world in suspense after the throes of war has been responsible for these statements."

"Such bitterness as enters Fortess' work reaches its fullest expression in 'Village Hamdens" with its fallen tombstones in a neglected cemetery. . . . Fortess is another of the fundamentally expressionist painters who is reacting to our times, at the other pole from ivory tower nonobjectivism and its escape from reality."

Lapo Plans to Resume Water Project Soon

The work on Woodstock's water supply has been temporarily held up due to the recent storms. However, Harold Lapo who is in charge of the drilling, stated today that he was going to attempt to shovel some of the drifted snow which is hampering operations.

Also, it was learned from Lapo that in the drilling which has reached 120 feet, two beds of gravel each having a depth of about five feet were discovered. The first gravel bed was found at 40 feet and the second at 80 feet. Before going on to the next drilling operation, these gravel beds will be thoroughly tested for amount of water they will produce.

transfer lend-lease military equipment to the Greek government.

The equipment, surplus to British needs, already is in Greece, the department said, but no inventory is available.

The manpower increase for the Greek armed forces was the second authorized by the United States since the $300,000,000 aid program went into effect. Last September a temporary increase of 20,000 men and an additional permanent increase of 10,000 men for the army was authorized. The Greeks had asked an increase of 70,000 men.

Griswold said at the time that it could be inferred from the increase that "reconstruction appropriations will be decreased to allow for military requirements."

Sophoulis' announcement last night said the United States also is considering the supply and equipment of Greek troops, including machine-guns and mountain artillery. Greek soldiers have complained that they are handicapped in their fight against the guerrillas by unsuitable equipment.

In Salonika, an informed source said the United Nations special commission on the Balkans intends to establish permanent observer teams along the Greek frontiers within two weeks, although no funds have yet been allotted for the work.

The Albanian government has notified the commission that no commission observers would be allowed inside Albania. The Salonika informant said military observers of the commission who witnessed the battle of Konitsa returned convinced that the guerrillas there were supplied from Albania.

Press dispatches today said the guerrillas who attacked Konitsa had been driven from heights around Bourozani bridge, west of the city, and that Greek troops were moving across the Aoos river in an effort to cut off rebels trying to withdraw toward the Grammos mountains to the northeast.

In the Philiates area, to the southwest, army units reportedly made contact with rebel forces moving in that region. The contact was said to have been made at the village of Palamba, a few hundred yards from the Albanian border, 12 miles north of Philiates.

Parents Are Opposed To Syracuse School

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—The commission studying the need for a state university will act formally on a final report at a meeting here Jan. 12, Chairman Owen D. Young says.

Authoritative sources predicted the 30-member commission would "overwhelmingly support" a Dewey administration plan to convert Syracuse University into a state educational center.

Meanwhile, the selection of Syracuse as a site was opposed by the United Parents Association of New York city who said it would be "remote" from the bulk of the state's population.

The association, through its president, Mrs. Rose Shapiro, contended that it "cannot be satisfactory" to locate the institution in the northwestern part of the state when "more than half" the state's people "some 250 miles away" in the southeastern corner of the state.

Roos Recalls His Youth in Kingston

Letter Sent to Forsts From Texas Upon Receipt of Smoked Turkey

Memories of a tragic incident which happened in Kingston 50 years ago were brought back to Clinton M. Roos by the receipt of a "delicious smoked turkey" this Christmas from the Forst's Catskill Mountain Smokehouse here. Roos, who spent his childhood in Kingston, wrote the following letter to Forst's from Corpus Christi, Texas:

"Kingston brings back memories to me and if it weren't for an incident that happened there 50 years ago my name wouldn't be on your list.

"During summer school vacation four boys used to play in a sand pit alongside the Ulster & Delaware tracks. We dug a tunnel under a spur track. On the morning of the accident, the four of us left our homes for the sand pit. Before we arrived there my brother and I changed our minds and decided to go swimming in Schuylkill Creek. The other two boys continued on to the sand pit. About two hours later, upon our return to the sand pit, we observed a crowd of people watching some men digging in the sand. We soon learned that our playmates, Petie Palen and Myron DuBois, had been killed in a cave-in when a string of sand cars had been backed in on the spur track.

"The men were digging for my brother and myself, and the job was being supervised by my father, who was nearly frantic in the belief that we were still buried in the pit.

"I don't imagine there are many people left in Kingston who remember this incident, but neither I nor my brother, John, shall ever forget it."

Roos, his brother, and his father lived at that time on Elmendorf street.

Mr. Roos' father at present lives at 15 Pearl avenue, Binghamton.

Stassen Outlines 5-Point Deal To Check Booms, Depressions

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, has outlined a five-point program which he said "could" by 1950 result in "the inability of the Kremlin to successfully wage aggressive war, and diminishing Communist strength in other nations."

Adoption of the program by the U. S., the former Minnesota governor said, also should show "continued success of the American economic system, marked progress in rebuilding Europe with rising standards of living, and a definite trend toward increased individual economic, social and political freedom."

The resultant situation in Russia, he said in an address before the New York Young Republican Club, would be continued low production and poor living standards "compounded rather than corrected by the ruble purge."

Names Five Points

The five points, as expounded by Stassen, are:

1. To demonstrate the continued success of the American system by "a network of interrelated measures of limited powers in government, of curbs on excessive credit to decrease inflationary pressures, of supervision of exports to avoid too great an impact of world-wide shortages, of limiting of inventories to prevent hoarding, of economy in the civilian activities of government, and of a variable federal fiscal program, all to check booms and avoid depression busts."

He asked also "supplementary action on the housing and health and education shortcomings."

2. Place the Marshall Law "on a sound and businesslike basis, establishing proper economic conditions to increase its prospects of success, but above all, treating it as the bipartisan program that it is, and not permitting quibbling or politics to delay and handicap or cut in half and destroy."

3. "We should maintain a strong military position and increase our air power and enlarge our research."

4. "Stop shipping to Russia heavy machinery, machine tools, electrical devices, and other apparatus and equipment which could become a part of a Communist war machine . . . unless and until the leaders in the Kremlin show by definite agreement and action that they will cooperate in rebuilding Europe."

5. "An extensive world-wide campaign of ideas to combat the propaganda line of the Communists" which "should go far beyond the voice of America broadcasts."

Proposes U. N. Convention

Stassen said that positive Republican foreign policy program should include "the calling of a major United Nations convention in 1950 for the purpose of amending and rewriting the charter and strengthening the United Nations for its noble and vital task."

He declared that one of the aims of the convention should be to eliminate the big power veto.

Stassen called on young Republicans to bring to the party "an expanded vision of the realities of world conditions" which he said requires "willingness to take issue within the party with those whose primary glance is backward, whose most cherished word is no, whose outlook is limited by the territorial borders of our country, or worse, by the borders of an election district.

The ban on union musicians making recordings doesn't affect Kitty personally—vocalists aren't unionized—but if she wants to make a record now she'll have to accompany herself on the musical comb.

Leonard Officially Congratulated

Members of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association were notified today that a testimonial dinner will be given for Patrolman Edward J. Leonard, who has completed 25 years with the police force, at Cuneo's Restaurant on Monday, January 19. Besides honoring Leonard, the dinner will be to celebrate the victory gained by the association with the passage last November of the police referendum increasing the pay scale of local policemen, according to Walter Van Steenburgh, secretary of the K.P.A. It was also announced that the next regular meeting of the association will be held Friday, January 9, in the city court room at 6:45 p. m. Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, left, congratulates Patrolman Leonard on his quarter century of service, and Acting Chief Ray Van Buren adds his felicitations.

Headquarters Says MacArthur Cable Lacks Significance

Tokyo, Jan. 6 (AP)—General MacArthur's message to Wisconsin mentioning the great satisfaction "reflected in the selection by one's neighbors for public service" has no bearing on whether he will run for president, informed headquarters sources emphasized today.

MacArthur himself was silent, and the opinion is growing here that he will remain silent on this topic for some time. His only comment has been that he would remain in Japan until a peace treaty is signed.

In response to a Wisconsin request, the general had radioed congratulations on the state's centennial celebration. The Wisconsin secretary of state, Fred R. Zimmerman, quoted MacArthur's comment on public service and said this "meant he would perform any public service he was called upon to perform."

Angeline Andreini Hurt In Highland Collision

One person was injured slightly in a two-car accident near the grape juice factory, Clintondale road at Highland at 8 p. m. Monday, according to the state police.

Angeline Andreini of Highland, the report said, suffered lacerations and abrasions of the left elbow and right knee for which she was treated by Dr. Carl Meekins of Highland.

The girl was a passenger in a car operated by James Andreini, 33, of Highland, which was traveling east over the route. The other auto was operated by Anthony Orlando, 21, of Highland.

State Troopers D. A. Dakin and T. P. Herron of the Highland sub-station investigated.

Ranks Are Raised

Walter G. Hamilton Dies; G.O.P. Leader

Suffern, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—Walter G. Hamilton, 75, prominent Republican leader in the south Hudson valley, died yesterday.

His home for more than 70 years had been at Stony Point, not far from his birthplace, Tomkins Cove.

In 1907, Gov. Charles E. Hughes appointed Hamilton treasurer of Rockland county and he held that post until 1934.

Once in the meat business, handling cattle sales in the Jersey City market, Hamilton later became a banker and was a former president of the First National Bank of Haverstraw. He was a former president of the Rockland County Banks Association.

Hamilton was a prominent Mason and one of the founders of the Rockland County Boy Scout Council. He was council treasurer from the time it was organized until his death.

Officers Are Re-elected

Pressmen's Home, Tenn., Jan. 6 (AP)—President George L. Berry and other officers of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America (A.F.L.) were re-elected without opposition for four-year terms, it was announced today. An announcement at union headquarters here said the election of the officers was by unanimous nomination of the 680 locals. Other officers re-elected were William H. McHugh, Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer, Fred W. Maxted, Hamilton, Ont., J. H. de la Rosa, San Francisco, C. W. Ernest, Baltimore, and A. J. Beandrade, Boston, vice-presidents; John L. McFadden, New York, home trustee, E. Curtis White, Indianapolis, Louis A. Lopez, Washington, and James F. Doyle, school trustees.

13 Persons Rescued From Peninsula by Coast Guard Crews

Kodiak, Alaska, Jan. 6 (AP)—Thirteen persons, including a mother and her six children, sped toward Kodiak aboard a Coast Guard cutter and Navy tug today for hospitalization after being rescued from an ice-sheathed point of the Alaska peninsula where they had been stranded for up to five days.

Ten of the frost-bitten survivors were aboard the wrecked cannery tender Spencer, which smashed into the rocks opposite Kodiak Island New Year's eve and broke up in the pounding swells.

All are reported suffering from frost bite and exposure but are not believed to be in serious condition.

The other three were volunteer rescuers from the Navy tug Matauco who struggled to shore after their small boat overturned Saturday night in a daring attempt to reach the stranded party.

The rescue, balked for three days by 60-mile an hour winds and gale-tossed seas, was completed yesterday during a lull in the storm.

Hurley Parents Club Will Meet Wednesday

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments will be served.

EAT WELL for Less

Combination Dish Saves Money

To stretch meat—bake in cups with potatoes and onions.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Combine potatoes and ground beef together with onions in individual custard cups and bake. That's a food and dollar-saving dinner suggestion.

Meat Timbales with Creamed Potatoes
(Serves 6)

One pound ground beef, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 4 cups diced raw potatoes, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, ¼ cup diced pimiento, 6 sprigs of parsley.

Mix together ground beef, minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Line six heat-resistant glass custard cups, 6½-ounce size, with meat. Combine potatoes, butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon salt and milk in a saucepan. Cook over low heat for about 25 minutes or until potatoes are almost done. Add diced pimiento to potatoes. Fill meat-lined glass custard cups with potatoes. Bake in moderate over (350 degrees F.) for about 25 minutes. Garnish with parsley.

Vegetable Chowder
Serves 6

Two tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1 cup peas, 1 cup diced carrots, 1 cup water, ½ teaspoon sugar, 1¾ teaspoons salt, 1 cup cooked corn, 3½ cups milk, 2½ tablespoons flour.

Melt fat in saucepan; add onion and green pepper and cook 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Then add peas, carrots and water and cook slowly 20 to 30 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Add sugar, salt, corn and milk. Bring to a boil. Thicken with flour and water paste, stirring constantly. Serve, or keep hot by placing over boiling water.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed dried peaches, ready-to-eat cereal, fried bologna, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Bowls of vegetable chowder, crisp whole wheat rolls, butter or fortified margarine, ginger pears, oatmeal cookies, cheese, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, meat timbales with creamed potatoes, buttered kale, raw carrot sticks, apple brown Betty, light cream or whole milk, coffee, milk.

C.I.O. Board Says Wallace's Action Is Irresponsible

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—The New York state C.I.O.'s condemnation of the presidential candidacy of Henry A. Wallace was viewed in political circles here today as a "break" for both Governor Dewey and President Truman.

Through its executive board, the state C.I.O. adopted a resolution last night terming "irresponsible" the action of Wallace and his supporters in launching a third party movement. The Marshall plan was endorsed in another resolution.

The C.I.O. board urged C.I.O. unions affiliated with the American Labor party to withdraw their support from the party if it "persists" in backing Wallace.

When Wallace announced his candidacy, at the head of a third party, it was widely predicted he would damage Dewey's chances of winning the Republican presidential nomination. The reasoning went thus:

Wallace would have A.L.P. support, with its normal complement of approximately a half-million votes, all in pivotal New York state. This would be enough to defeat Truman here no matter whom the Republicans nominated. Therefore the G.O.P. would not feel it had to choose Dewey in order to stand the best chance of swinging the state into the Republican column.

But the action of the CIO executive board, in the opinion of political analysts here, will cut deeply into the American Labor party strength and leave the party far less effective as a balance of power.

This in turn was regarded as making Republican victory in New York state next fall less certain and therefore re-enhancing Dewey's chances of gaining the G.O.P. presidential nomination.

To the Democrats it was evidence of considerably less New York defection from Truman to Wallace than was feared when the former Democratic vice-president announced he was leading a third party into the race.

Tojo Says He Feels No Wrong Committed

Tokyo, Jan. 6 (AP)—Hideki Tojo, the premier-dictator who engineered Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, completed his cross examination before the international war crimes tribunal today with the assertion "I feel that I committed no wrong."

Tojo's stay on the witness stand was not immediately terminated, however, when, after three and a third days, Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan completed his questioning.

The tribunal president, Sir William Webb of Australia, took up the questioning. Recalling the statement in Tojo's affidavit that Japanese plans for "the new order" in East Asia were "based on the consent of independent peoples in each area," Webb asked:

"Do you consider Manchukuo (Manchuria) as a country that serves as an example of this respect for independence and sovereignty?"

"As for myself," replied Tojo, "I feel Manchukuo was one example."

British Warn Greek Neighbors About Reds

London, Jan. 6 (AP)—Responsible quarters said today Britain was planning a new, firm and formal warning to Greece's northern neighbors against recognizing Marko Vafiades' Communist-supported guerrilla "government."

A British Foreign Office spokesman declined to confirm or deny the report, but said an announcement could be expected within a few days. This would be in line with diplomatic procedure of withholding disclosure of formal notes until their receipt by the government or governments to whom they are directed.

Both Britain and the United States have served notice informally that they would consider recognition by any nation of the Vafiades Organization as likely to produce grave results, and as a move in violation of the principles of the United Nations Charter.
